GENERAL NEWS

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN

The Telegraph War.

CHICAGO, March 6.—This afternoon in the Circuit Court Judge Drummond entered an order in the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the Wabash Railway Company and the American Union Telegraph Company decreeing that the contract between the old Toledo, Wabash & Western Railroad to end Western Union Telegraph Company is binding on the new Wabash Company in all respects except as to the right of another telegraph company having access to the right to build on the roadway. Thereupon proceedings were had in the Wabash Company in both suits and agents from the Western Union Telegraph Company upon the premises and the railroad at all of thereof.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The district court of this city heard to-day a motion of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, which was filed some days ago by the solicitors of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, asking for an order restraining the Western Union Telegraph Company from in any way interfering with the leased lines of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company. The motion was argued by the solicitors of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, and the Western Union Telegraph Company, and the court allowed an injunction against the Western Union Telegraph Company, which will restrain the latter company from interfering with the lines of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company in the territory where they had been cut by the Western Union Telegraph Company, and requires the companies on both sides to restore the wires and provisions of the contract between the companies. This leaves Judge McCrary's bill in full power to relieve the controversy between them about priority of suit and in addition restores full use of the wires to the whole length of the railroad to the Pacific Telegraph Co.

Fatal Explosion.

VICTORIA, March 7.—An explosion in the coal mine at Nanaimo yesterday killed Edmund Morgan, Joseph Anderson and David J. Watkins. John P. Watkins was seriously injured. The disaster was caused by a miner leaving a door open, thus allowing a naked light carried by the fire boss to ignite the gas accumulated at the bottom of the shaft. Six men were killed by the concussion and several carpenters and miners, who attempted to rescue the victims, were overcome by black damp and with great difficulty.

Highly Important.

PORTLAND, March 8.—The American Chess Congress, of which James Cassidy and Hamilton Ware for one year past, cause, met almost collision.

Yesterday Dead.

VICTORIA, March 6.—Late to-night, when the steamer and his betrothed were passing Victoria, they were attacked by a crazed man, who killed Reuben and Mrs. Fleming under a railway trestle. Another screamed as it ran to the water's edge and was soon lost to sight. Fleming failed to discover the murderer in the night that she was attacked by the lake over this bridge.

Accidental Shooting.

PORTLAND, March 6.—Edward McFeber, a boy, has been accidentally shot by Fred Fear, has been accidentally shot by Albany Evening Journal.

Fatal Fire.

PORTLAND, March 7.—Much excitement was caused by the universal observances of the Sabbath. There has been considerable talk about the fire in the charge of the Fire Department, and the Chief Engineer, Everybody, who is personally acquainted with the Chief Engineer, and to-day the charges against the Chief Engineer were made by the Chief Engineer, and the Chief Engineer was closed by the Chief Engineer, and they sold nothing. The Chief Engineer, the President of the Fire Department, and the Chief Engineer, who is the Chief Engineer, and the Chief Engineer, who is the Chief Engineer, and the Chief Engineer, who is the Chief Engineer

MONDAY MORNING, MAR H -, 1880.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

Election of school director and school clerk will be held this afternoon, between the hours of two and six o'clock. Several candidates are announced for the clerkship, as is usually the case when there is an office to be filled to which is attached a salary out of proportion to the service to be rendered. The financial transactions of the district have, however, become so large that the clerk should have the qualifications of an accountant; and it would be well to take this into consideral on in making a selection. For the directorship two persons only are announced, namely, Mr. E. J. Northrup and Mr. John Wilson. Both are old citizens, and sufficiently known. Except for the fact that they are understood to represent different views as to questions of public education, there would be no occasion to take special interest in a choice between them. Mr. Northrup is understood to favor thorough and efficient common schools. But in his judgment the system, as it exists here, has been carried too far; it has been enlarged and extended till it embraces a course which goes beyond the proper limits of public education, and its further tendency in that direction should be arrested; and he thinks it would be advisable to reduce studies in the high school or special school, which every one sees is maintained by the district for the advantage of the few and not for the public or common use. His view is understood to be that a system of public education should not undertake to include instruction in ancient and foreign languages, and in special arts and sciences, which studies only a few can reach and those few generally the children of parents who are fully able to educate them, but that effort should be concentrated upon those branches of learning in which all may share. This is the essence of the common school. Of Mr. Wilson's candidacy, it is enough to say that it is directly and expressly in the interest of the present management, of the existing corps of "professors," and of the whole system of extravagance and flummery which has been growing up here for years past. He has been selected because he is understood to be favorable to that system; and because those who want the biggest possible tax, for the reason that it promises the largest possible expenditure, have persuaded themselves that he can be induced to sanction all the "improvements" and additions which the "professors" want, under the specious plea that free education should be made to cover the greatest possible part of the whole realm of knowledge. Of course the wider it is extended the larger the number of the "professors," and the higher the salaries. It would be well, as many think, to take the management of the public schools out of the hands of the corps of professionals, and to hold the members of this corps to their proper position as servants of the district, instead of allowing them to continue, as they have been for years past, its masters. This is the plain and simple issue. Mr. Wilson is a good citizen and estimable man, but for the reason that he is put forward as the representative of class education, of an overgrown and extravagant system, and of professional influences which cling tenaciously to this system as a means of support and profit at the expense of the public, he should not, in our judgment, be elected school director. Mr. Northrup will undoubtedly be elected if the taxpayers all go to a heat to the polls.

CROWDED OUT.

Is it not true that there are large numbers of children of school age in this city who are crowded out of the public schools? Many complaints of this sort have been made during the last year or two. Similar exclusion of children who should be receiving instruction in the elementary branches has been witnessed on a great scale in large cities. Not long since the Chicago Times showed that ten thousand children in that city were excluded from the primary schools for want of room, while the public high schools were absorbing more and more of public educational effort and of public educational funds. And in San Francisco the same thing has been witnessed. We are reminded that while the magnificent central school of that city, around which all the primary schools are made to revolve, was flaunting its grandeur to the world as evidence of the liberal public spirit and advanced civilization of San Francisco, there were two thousand children in that city entitled to school money who had no place to attend school, because there was no room provided for them. These excluded ones were the children of the very poor, for whose special benefit the free school system was instituted, with the view of saving them from a life of ignorance and its consequences. The children of the rich have appropriated their educational heritage. Let us ask again if it is not true, while we have set up in Portland a great high school in the most costly building we have, that there are many children in the city of school age, for the education of whom the public is taxed, who cannot find room in the schools and who are not allowed to attend? That there are such we know, for complaints have been made to THE OREGONIAN to this effect within a week past. Children are denied the opportunity of receiving instruction in the elementary branches, where instruction should be common to all, in order that a special advanced school may be maintained for a favored few. And this special school is kept in the most costly building, has teachers employed at high salaries and furnishes instruction in linguistic and scientific studies, while many children of school age are denied the opportunity of learning to read and write. Thus the common school is sacrificed to the high school, and the system all the time tends more and more that way. But no sleight-of-hand will make a heavy body stand on its vertex. There are five rooms in the new Park street building occupied by the high school, and five high-salaried teachers are employed therein; and yet we are told that scholars of the lower grades are crowded out of the Harrison street school, and actually cannot get instruction for want of room. So it will be seen that while ample room is provided for the high school, children in the lower grades are crowded out and must await their chance. But it is as interesting to teach beginners. Teachers who have a text book smattier of botany, chemistry, algebra, Latin and astronomy prefer high school work, and directors are persuaded that this is the crowning effort in the cause of public education.

PISCICULTURE.

They who help to produce and cheapen wholesome food become public benefactors, though no marble shaft ever be erected to their memory. No end of praise has been bestowed on the man who originated the happy phrase about him who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before,—more praise indeed, we fear, than ever will fall to the share of the man who has done that useful thing. But let that pass. It is something to make good fish abundant where heretofore there have been none, and also something to prevent the extermination of fish where they have hitherto been abundant. No one is so deserving of praise for efforts in the direction of Mr. Seth Green, to whom more than to any other man are due the great advances of fifteen years past in pisciculture. His examples has had good effect, and he has the gratification of knowing that almost every state in the union is now directly interested in the propagation of the best varieties of fish and that the general government is actively going in the same direction.

The latest effort by the general government is the appropriation by congress of $30,000 to defray the expense of a proper representation of the United States at the international fishery exhibition at Berlin. In the house there was some dissent and ignorant ridicule of the appropriation. It does not appear to have occasioned any debate in the senate. An item of news merely stated in passage by that body. The exhibition will commence in April. It will consist of illustrations of fish in various ways—the most approved methods of catching the different species, how to cook them, how to increase the supply, etc., etc. It will be a gathering of the fishery interest of the world for an interchange of intelligence upon all practical points. It is said that the large bodies of water contain many valuable kinds of fish which we do not catch, because of our ignorance of the apparatus therefor in use in some other countries. This seems almost incredible, in view of the experiments of our people in mechanism, but the assertion is made on good authority. Prof. Baird, of the Smithsonian Institution, who, after Seth Green, is the most eminent American in the fish line, says that this country has a great deal to learn in this respect, although occupying an honorable rank in the culture and utilization of "marine animals," to use his own expression.

In proportion as the fish of our rivers and lakes disappear before the hook, spear and net of the fisherman, it is important that pisciculture be encouraged. It is safe to predict highly important results from the Berlin exhibition, and in them our country will share liberally. Nearly every state in the union now has a fish commission, and success in stocking waters with fish has been all that could be claimed. The salmon is the finest fish in the world, and it is unquestionable that the Columbia river is the first of streams for its propagation. But the limited scale on which it has been attempted to aid its propagation here by artificial means, though creditable to those who have borne the expense, is far below what ought to be done. Here, if anywhere, the government ought to undertake and continue the effort on a great scale. It will bring more results than could be had from like effort anywhere else.

The great question of spelling reform presents many difficulties, and how to surmount these is a serious problem with the advocates of the innovation. But a remedy has been found, and for it the "fonetic" spellers are indebted to a writer in the Literary World. This genius has devised a plan to accelerate the progress of the reform, which is to have telegraph companies charge by the letter instead of by the word in transmitting messages. This, he believes, would cause people to write phonetically so as to use as few letters as possible. Should this plan be adopted, the exact ratio which writers could economize in the use of letters without destroying the sense is astonishing. For example, the words "Leavenworth," "Tennessee" and "Wyandotte" could be rendered very simply, thus: Lvnworth, Tnss, Yt. THE OREGONIAN commends this suggestion to our superintendents of public instruction and learned professors, who exhibit a commendable readiness on all possible occasions to adopt improvements, and who act so much on principle that all innovation is reform.

It is the opinion of the New York Times that a party of capitalists could take Alaska from the government's hands for the sum the government paid, and with political power, like that formerly possessed by the East India Company, make it for themselves a paying investment. Nothing like this, the Times concedes, can or ought to be done, but the possibility will serve to overthrow the pretense that Alaska is worthless. The revenue could easily be increased to $500,000, or double the cost of the territorial government. Nobody can dispute that it is rich in fish, furs, timber and minerals, without reviving the extravagant assertions of Seward and Sumner concerning the wheat-bearing properties and fine, mild climate of Alaska, and it is enough to say that its fish and furs would easily support a large population if the protection and comforts of an orderly government be assured.

"The first thing to do," said the Standard the other day in speaking of the school question, "is to run a man for director who is not nominated on a petition from the teachers." This was very well. But yesterday the Standard abandoned this position by coming out as an advocate of the election of Mr. Wilson, who was nominated on a petition from that very quarter. However, as that paper had no weight on one side of the question it is not likely to have any on the other.

Portland is not and cannot become a congenial field for the growth of sand lot turbulence and disorder. When a petty imitator of Denis Kearney takes command here and orders the election of a school director, the mandate is not likely to have much weight. It is a poor counterfeit of sand lot thunder, and, it must be added, the poorer the counterfeit of the uproar caused by the shouting variety of San Francisco the better for this locality or any other.

An effort is making to oust civilists all the New England seaports outside of Maine on Senator Edmunds. The five states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island have sixty-six votes to bestow upon somebody. If they could agree (but they can't) they might make Mr. Edmunds a possible candidate.

The position into which Cameron has forced the republican party of Pennsylvania is thus described by a republican journal of that state: "Resolved, first, that the fifty-eight delegates to the Chicago convention shall vote as one man. Resolved, second, that Cameron is that one man."

The Sunday Mercury is criticising people in a very general and miscellaneous manner. A good many of its articles are "powerful easy readin'." It doesn't appear to be showing any particular favors in any direction. "Promiscuity" seems in fact to be one feature of its impartiality.

It may be easy enough to kiss out of the party, as the Grant organs of the eastern states are trying to do, at those who protest against the nomination of Grant, but how will that help carry the election?

CLUB ORGANIZED.—On Saturday evening a party of gentlemen formed an organization to be called the "American Club," the object being to promote social intercourse among its members. The following officers were elected: President, Geo. Bancroft; vice president, H. W. Corbett; secretary, Geo. D. Little; treasurer, A. Bush; Executive committee: Jno. Reed, Jno. Griffin, Chas. C. Mead, Geo. McGowan, E. K. Cambell and E. Failing.

CITY HOUSE.—The city property known as the City House, which has been occupied for some time past as a boarding house, was at last night's meeting of the common council of some three hours duration, at length been located. The sum of $2,000 was the price at the pound is on the Patton road, a short distance west of the Fourth street bridge. It is now in full bloom, and persons of cautious should remember that this is the only safeguard for the disease. Particular attention to this matter may save much trouble, and save the dog's life.

MCMINNVILLE WAREHOUSE.—Last Saturday, Mr. W. T. Newby, of McMinnville, in the city endeavoring to secure the purchase of the hand engine formerly owned by the Protection Engine Company No. 1. Chairman Opitz, chairman of the committee on fire and water, will bring the matter before a meeting of the council this evening. The price named for the engine was $200, one half of those also desired by the people of McMinnville.

Miss Pool has been chosen to deliver the valedictory, and Miss Cora Cox the salutatory.

UNDER BONDS.—Saturday afternoon Officer Gheen was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Tibbits, charged with assault with intent to kill. It seems that Mrs. Tibbits struck Gheen on the head with some weapon, to wit: a loaded pistol, and for this she was brought before Judge Stearns this morning on examination, was held to bail in the sum of $250.

DELAYED BY FOG.—Ten o'clock arrived, the usual sailing hour of steamer Ancon for San Francisco, but no steamer left the dock. The steamship Santa Rosa of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which left San Francisco for Portland. Yesterday afternoon, was delayed by fog, and did not arrive in this city until 4:30 o'clock this morning. The steamship State of California was also delayed by fog, and did not arrive in this city until 4:30 o'clock this morning, on account of a thick fog. The Ancon left San Francisco on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was not able to sail until this morning. The steamer brings a large number of passengers.

NEW LODGE OF A. O. U. W.—A new lodge of the order of A. O. U. W., will be instituted in this city to-morrow evening. The meeting will be called in Pythian Lodge, and will be composed of charter members. The order has already shown great prosperity and is increasing in numbers and influence.

THE OREGONIAN office is now connected with the telephone system. We will on the receipt of items in possession of items of news communicate them. The office will be open until 1 A M.

CITY

AN UNNECESSARY SCARE—It is the fashion in the world to get up an excitement in this city on the smallest amount of capital. An order came to Vancouver barracks, Friday, commanding 12 men to report for fire duty. Consequently Saturday morning at six o'clock known on the streets here and there in consequence of a few bulletin boards reporting the startling information that the troops were ordered to the Bay city to assist in quelling a riot. Now, And then every body drew a long breath. Kalloch was assassinated, Sullivan shot, all the way from 100 to 500 Chinamen killed and 200 to 600 Chinamen wounded, all equally truthful and pleasant stories to tell. Everything concerning the movements of San Francisco sand-lotters has been published in THE OREGONIAN and duly commented upon. It was necessary for the troops to go, accompanied by Major Sam Jackson, Capt. Boyle, Lieuts. Rheem and Heuter, and Surgeon Heuter, will leave on the Oregon this morning, in obedience to orders such as have often been received before. The supposition that there has been no bloodshed in San Francisco, but a great deal of lying in print, is correct.

DEATH OF MRS. GEN BABBITT—Mrs Sarah Babbitt, wife of Gen E B Babbitt, died of pneumonia at her residence, corner of Second and Oak streets, at, half past 9 o clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of five days. She attained one year beyond the allotted three score and ten, and for 14 was a resident of Portland. Mrs. Babbitt has been a member of the First Presbyterian church for many years, and by her gentle manners, her piety and charity had endeared herself to all who knew her. The last time she left her home was to attend the burial services of Colonel Hamilton a week ago to-day. She leaves three children, Mrs. Capt. J C Ainsworth, of this city, Mrs Maj Geo H Burton, of Kansas, and Maj Lawrence Babbitt, of Fort Monroe, Virginia. The day of the funeral has not been fixed and depends upon the time of the arrival of the State of Cala with Capt. and Mrs Ainsworth on board.

A BOULEVARD—After several days of surveying, Mr. John Holland, chief builder of the U. S. N. Co., assisted by a force of men, succeeded in getting the Willamette Chief Saturday evening the steamer was towed to the boneyard, where she will remain. To-day the Chief will be placed in position, and thoroughly overhauled. Mr. Holland will then examine to the bottom, and if considerably strained, but a small portion of the large keelson has a large hole in it, and will have to be taken out and replaced before the necessary repairs can be made.

TAKE THE SEA.—A decidedly sensible idea, showing how too hardly worked sometimes are, has just come to hand. Fulton, now employed at dishwashing at the Pine Street Coffee House, engaged on the bark Drawby which sailed on the 27th. On that day, instead of washing the bar and was found on board the vessel. Fulton jumped overboard and swam ashore. Capt Penny, master of the vessel, four shots, but without effect.

CITY ITEMS—On yesterday afternoon a number of ladies formed an organization to be known as the "American Club," the objects of which are to promote and socially benefit the members. The following named officers were elected: President, Geo. W. Hayes; Secretary, Mrs. Dunning; Treasurer, Mrs. S. Sinclaton. Executive committee: Mrs. Jno. Barry, H. D. Green, Mrs. Geo. D. Little, Lu Campbell and Ed W Cushing.

The city council, which has a large share of the attention of the council for some time past, has been somewhat delinquent. The spot selected for the Fifth street fill is on the Fulton road, across the Fourth street railroad track, and is now in full blast, and all owners of property would remain at home to-day and attend to the annual. A little attention to this matter may save owners many a dog's life.

THE WATER AN ENEMY.—Saturday, Mr. Hawley, of McMinnville, was in the city endeavoring to negotiate for the sale of the land engine formerly used by the Fire Company No 2. Councilman Ladd, of the committee on fire apparatus, will bring the matter before the Council to-night. And have a good engine as well as 400 feet of hose, as the people of McMinnville are determined.

THE BARNES' LECTURE.—In response to the solicitation of a large number of the citizens of Portland, Archbishop Seghers will deliver a lecture on the Irish famine and His Grace's visit to Ireland. The Influence of Ireland on Civilization from the 5th to the 12th Century. W. H Klarass has kindly volunteered his services, as have also some of the musical talent of the city.

C. A. MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held (Monday) evening at the rooms of the association. The meeting will be for the purpose of receiving reports of the treasurer and secretary, and an election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. At a meeting of the entire association last evening the managers daily and all members will be entitled to vote.

DEATH OF GRANDPAPA.—The following is the list of the regular close of the Portland High School: Fred. Schoppe, John G Sutton, Mary E. Holman, Nellie Plummer, Maria Caples, Jennie Jones, Cora Parrish, Ella Bennett Sophie Dickenson Alice Gove and George F. Rodman has been selected to deliver the valedictory and Miss Dickenson the salutatory.

ARREST.—Saturday afternoon W P Fuller was arrested on complaint of O A Huntington charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with a loaded cane. Gheen was taken before Judge Steinbach, but waived examination, was held to answer the charge by the grand jury, in the sum of $200.

FIRE.—Ten o'clock A M is the regular hour of steamers from San Francisco for Portland. Yesterday the steamer California was detained three hours on account of a thick fog on the Bay and arrived at the dock with a large number of passengers.

THE A O U W.—A new lodge of A O U W., will be instituted in this city to-morrow evening. It will be known as Bailey Lodge, and will start with 25 members. The order in Portland is in a very prosperity and is increasing daily in strength and influence.

NOTICE.—Let it be observed that all business men and women whose names are on the roll as taxpayers have the right to vote at the election of school director and city clerk. Any person's right to vote can be challenged at once by appeal to the tax roll.

THE FERRIT.—Col Gillespie returned on Saturday from the Cascades where he has for a few days ago to see how the work of dredging. He reports that operations are being pushed as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

DEATH.—Willoby Bunn, the poor old colored specimen of humanity of whom mention was made in Saturday's issue was examined before Judge Rice. He was found insane and committed to the Insane Asylum.

SENTENCED.—Judge Belknap sentenced the two Celestials—Num and Chung Son,—who were convicted of larceny to three years in the penitentiary. They will be taken to Salem to-day.

FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—A stated meeting of the Exempt Firemen's association will be held at the Police court rooms on Monday, March 8 1880 at 7 o clock P M

GEEN'S THEATER—Turn Halle was crowded to hear last night a delighted audience to witness the interesting comedy of Das Pensionat, or Jeder Herr Hat Seine Freude, which was given with more than usual excellence.

OUR ENTERTAINMENT—The sales of the Portland Athenaeum have in contemplation a grand entertainment, to be given in the near future. Full particulars will be announced in due time.

THE SUPREME COURT—Judge Deady will leave on the 12th for Douglas county to open the March term of the circuit court. Harrison Severance, Esq., will go with him.

AMUSEMENTS.

MR. CHAPLIN'S BENEFIT.—In consequence of the "Esther" performance last week, it was arranged by Mr. Maguire and Mr. Chaplin that the latter's benefit would not take place until this coming Friday, when "Richelieu" will be produced.

PYGMALION AND GALATEA.—One of the most charming stories of heathen mythology is given new life by Gilbert's drama which will be produced with the gorgeous effect of the prismatic fountain introduced at the end of the second act. This novelty was the great feature in the Baldwin Theater where thousands of people witnessed it during the Christmas holidays. It was exhibited at the California Theatre some nine years ago after the run at Niblo's Gardens, and was the cause of crowding the house nightly for six weeks. An attraction of this kind is now here and ought to be largely patronized.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The old and firmly established house of Walter Bros., No 85 First street Union Block have an important announcement to make this morning in the advertising columns.

Last Saturday the mammoth dry goods establishment of S. Lyman & Co (successors to M W Henderson) was formally thrown open to the public. All day long the elegant store was thronged with ladies who came to inspect one of the largest and most attractive assortments of dry goods ever exhibited in Portland. A cordial invitation is extended the public to call and examine the goods in every department. Messrs Lyman & Co are offering special inducements to purchasers. They will endeavor to suit all who call both as to price and quality. Courteous and accommodating clerks will always be found at the counters to wait on customers. Ladies who wish to purchase the best of articles at the lowest possible price should not fail to call. Samples of goods sent free to any part of the state or territory on application.

All persons interested in the reduction of taxes will take notice of the proposition of E B Henry in this issue.

BASE BALL

First Game of the Season Saturday—The Greeks Die of the Red Stockings

He was a little early, as I did. He came in on the 5:30 train, and I rushed to the ferry to be landed one of the reporters. His game of base ball I must respectfully decline to describe. I left at the beginning of the fifth inning, and I am not sure that I could do justice to the game if I had seen it through. I left the ferry boat at the foot of Alder street, and walked up to the Pavilion. Then I found that the game had been in progress for some time, and that the Greeks had been at the bat. I found a seat in the grand stand, and looked around for the reporters. I saw Judge Deady with his family, and Judge Strahan, and Mr. Failing, and Mr. Ladd, and Mr. Corbett, and Mr. Dolph, and Mr. Carter, and Mr. Watson, and Mr. Dekum, and Mr. Flanders, and Mr. Ainsworth, and Mr. Holbrook, and Mr. Wasserman, and Mr. Cohen

FOREIGN NEWS

Distress in Ireland Reported Increasing

LONDON March —The Duke of Marlborough writing of the Irish May fair London says the distress in Ireland is general and in some parts is extreme

Fatal Boiler Explosion

Twenty three deaths have resulted from boiler explosion at Glasgow to day

The Situation in St Petersburg

LONDON March —A letter from St Petersburg dated the 11 inst illustrates the critical condition of affairs there by extracts from the diary of a correspondent covering the last few days He says that a military attache of the French embassy was dragged out of the chief of police for looking too attentively at a fortress A correspondent called on a friend early in the evening but was refused admission by the hall porter The next day he had a similar experience at another friend's residence The only reason given by the porters for his non-admission was that the correspondents did not live there and they could not go in The correspondent says Within the limits of my own street which last night was illuminated at every window by command of the police I witnessed three quarrels with parties who refused to give admittance to persons wishing to visit friends or relations in the adjoining street I witnessed one arrest for the same reason

On Tuesday there was a violent storm of wind and drifting snow and but few people were out The emperor in passing from the winter palace to the usual parade at the riding school was escorted by Cossacks and followed by one of the district police masters in a sleigh Those who saw his majesty's cortege of course removed their caps One unfortunate individual whose sight was impeded by a large bashlik over his head, did not doff his head dress and was dragged off to the police station

The Hartman Case.

PARIS, March 6—France declines to surrender Hartman, but will send him out of the country. Hartman's counsel has received a brief against him and will shortly publish a memorial in answer thereto The Russian government has engaged the services of Hyrouez, late chief of the personal police staff of Napoleon 3d

An Extraordinary Visit.

PARIS, March 7.—Mouravieff gives the account of a visit of two members of the revolutionary committee to John Brown's father in Tennessee and sensational He states that this morning while in bed at his hotel a servant brought him the card of a gentleman whom he recognized as an old friend and he directed that he be at once shown up This was followed by the entrance of two men evidently partially disguised who on entering locked the door and presenting weapons told Mouravieff that if he consented to listen quietly to what they had to say they would not harm his person, but if he attempted to ring or call for help they would kill him on the spot and get out as they ente ed The advocate had no choice but to obey, and his visitors proceeded in low, emphatic tones to state the decision of the committee in reference to Mouravieff's connection with the Hartmann case Mouravieff says that he was much astonished to recognize in these men a well known professor as a prominent Russian educational institution and a colonel in the Russian army, who had distinguished himself in the Russo Turkish war and was decorated by the czar himself. His replied to their threats by assuring them that he held his life at no higher rate than they held theirs if they were prepared to risk everything for the bad cause they had espoused he was equally ready to die for the czar and the country The interview ended by the members of the committee exacting from him a promise not to reveal the fact of their visit, until they had reached at least the frontier of the house The further warnings of serious results are left to himself if he persisted in pressing for extradition of Hartmann, they took their departure. Mouravieff after recovering from his agitation, proceeded to the Russian embassy, but on account of what had happened and left with the prefect an accurate description of the personal appearance and features worn by the visitors

Final Decision by the French Government.

PARIS, March 7.—The French government has finally resolved not to surrender Hartmann, the Russian charged with being connected with the Moscow explosion, and the matter has been communicated to the Russian ambassador Hartmann will be expelled from French territory. He will probably be conveyed to a channel port and will embark for England.

The surrender of Hartmann was refused on the ground of insufficient evidence of his complicity in the Moscow explosion and to his identity.

Royal Courtesies.

The czar has sent an autograph reply to Emperor William's congratulatory letter

Personal.

Victor Cassulitch is at Geneva engaged on the Nihilistic revolutionary journal

Explosion at Glasgow.

GLASGOW, March 8.—By a boiler explosion in this city yesterday six persons were killed and thirty severely injured

Cuban Affairs.

MADRID, March 8.—In congress to-day Senor Aguilla, in the name of the constitutionalists, said that he was anxious to see social, political and financial reforms introduced together with the promulgation in Cuba of the constitution of 1876, or a special constitution.

A Military Outrage.

PETERSBURG, March 7.—Four Musulman officers have been put to flames by order of a Russian officer, commander of militia, who declared himself a Slavophile, and burned to destroy the Turks. The movement has an anti revolutionary character, and the insurgents are generally in a great part dispersed.

The French Educational Bill.

PARIS, March 6.—The senate to-day continued the debate on the education bill Jules Ferry, minister of public instruction, resumed the speech began yesterday, said that the educational books of the French proved that their system is dangerous and hostile to the institutions of the country Ferry appealed to the friends of the principles of the French revolution to rescue youth from the influence of men contemning ideas of modern society Senator Simon said that from the onset he resolved to oppose section 7 of the bill but it now became a question of defending the first principles of liberty. The country must speak, he said, whether freedom shall continue to prevail in France or not Simon with made a long speech on the bill on Monday next Cuba and Spain.

MADRID, March 7—In congress yesterday Premier Canovas Del Castillo said, that in view of the insurrection it was impossible to think any further reduction of taxation in Cuba. He congratulated the house on the unanimous determination shown by all parties to retain Cuba under the glorious flag of Spain.

Suspicions.

MADRID, March 8—A store of arms, consisting of 41 tons of various kinds of weapons has been discovered in the city A judicial investigation has begun

A Gun-burst.

ROME, March 6—During experiments on board the new ironclad Dandlo a gun burst after 26 shots had been fired from it The turret was slightly damaged, but the machinery of the vessel was not injured and the trials were resumed. Ten persons were slightly wounded.

What They Say in Their Sleep

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer]

Don Cameron—If Grant will not accept I will take it myself, by gracious

Secretary Sherman—I am undoubtedly the greatest person that ever was produced

Ex-Gov Seymour—Gentlemen, your—(snores calmly but firmly)

Senator Conkling—What a rebuke my election would be to that plebeian Sprague

Senator Blaine—Mr Ingersoll is right I am indeed a plumed knight. I am also a seahorse on wheels.

Gen Grant—Do I look like a person that would decline a thing after going around the world to get?

Senator Sharon—I am the rose of myself I am the lily of the valley I am for a fact

Hendricks—Once for all I will play second fiddle to nobody (Kicks Mrs H out of bed)

Col Ingersoll—I am sure Blaine would do the handsome thing by me. I am strong in favor of that excellent person

Mr Tilden—It is not good for man to be alone. If I cannot find a wife I will at least buy a dog.
